Please join us to build a network that works.

November 19, 2020 | 5 P.M. On Zoom

Learn about the critical importance of community colleges from a renowned economist, network with other professionals, and spend time in conversation with community college students and recent alumni.

Keynote Speaker

Austan Goolsbee
Economist | Professor | Author

Hear reflections by Dr. Austan Goolsbee: Why invest in community colleges and hire their graduates?

Networking Session

40 Min | Zoom Breakouts

Get to know corporate leaders and OMD Scholars/Alumni through facilitated speed networking.

Current Report

UChicago Poverty Lab

Learn about OMD through the lens of a new qualitative report.

To confirm your attendance, please click the link above.

For questions and sponsorship opportunities, contact Andrea at amartin@onemilliondegrees.org

One Million Degrees
OneMillionDegrees.org
OMD offers guidance, opportunity, and resources that transform academic and professional outcomes for community college students.

Poverty Lab’s ongoing randomized controlled trial provides qualitative insights on the impact of OMD’s program.

Relationship-based support from staff that’s customized and proactive

Performance-based financial support driven by clear, frequent feedback

Intentional community-building with volunteer coaches and peer groups

Opportunities to learn, practice, and apply workplace skills

The future of our city must be built on a workforce that is diverse, inclusive, and equitable. Community college graduates will make the difference.

To confirm your attendance, click the link or email Andrea Martin: